DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-10, 14 and 15, drawn to an apparatus and method for fluid containment, classified in class 141, subclass 86.
- II. Claims 11-13, drawn to a method of manufacturing a fluid containment apparatus, classified in class 29.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and process of using the product. The use as claimed cannot be practiced with a materially different product. Since the product is not allowable, restriction is proper between said method of making and method of using. The product claim will be examined along with the elected invention (MPEP § 806.05(i)).

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

During a telephone conversation with Michael Bascobert on 3/6/06 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-10, 14 and 15. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 11-13 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Drawings

The drawings filed on 9/26/03 are informal, since the letters, numbers and lines are not uniform in nature throughout the Figures.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3 recites the limitation "constricted portion" and "flared portion" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3751

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-10, 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pandelena et al. in view of Iggulden.

In regard to claims 1-4, 7 and 9, the Pandelena et al. reference discloses a "fluid containment apparatus" 25 (Figure 1) comprising a "boot body" 26 including a "narrow portion" 29, a "wide portion" 28, a "annular pocket" 35, as claimed, but doesn't disclose an absorbent member being located in the annular pocket 40. However, the Iggulden reference discloses another fluid containment apparatus (Figure 10) having an absorbent material 424 in the annular pocket of the device to absorb and collect spilled material. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the Pandelena et al. device to have absorbent material placed in the annular pocket 35 in view of the teachings of the Iggulden reference in order to further absorb and collect spilled material.

In regard to claim 6, "extended area" 31 is about $\frac{1}{4}$ the length of the boot body.

In regard to claim 8, see Abstract, lines 7-10.

In regard to claim 10, see oil filter 20 in Figure 1.

In regard to claims 14 and 15, the method as claimed would be inherent during normal use and operation of the device.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Zola, et al. pertains to using absorbent material for collection of fuel spills. The Post, Krauss, Wadsworth and Wawrzyniak references pertain to various oil filter covers, similar to Applicant's device.
